LOOK WHAT WE HAVE BEEN DOING...

The children in our Lambs' and Ducklings' rooms have spent time celebrating Valentine's Day. We linked this to their Book of the Week, 'LOVE'. The children enjoyed exploring jelly hearts, flowers in the sensory tray, and baking biscuits for dinner. They took part in lots of creative activities, making marks in playdough, shaving foam, and moon sand.

Thank you to all the parents who joined us for our very special Valentine's Day Stay and Play. It was lovely to have you back in the nursery—it was a great opportunity for you to visit your children in the next room that they may be moving to this month.

To celebrate Valentine's Day, the Farmers children enjoyed a story about friendship. We looked at ways we could help each other, and the children made kindness stones and their own bunches of flowers for their friends, which they were so excited to share. They also took part in mindfulness sessions with their favourite teddies, which they shared with each other.

As it was National Internet Safety Day, the Explorers have been learning about internet safety and enjoyed the story 'Screen Thief'. The children learnt about each other's interests and hobbies and the different activities they take part in outside of nursery. They made a TV and shared their news with the rest of the group.

We spoke to the children about being safe online. If anything makes them feel sad or unsafe, they should let an adult know and turn off their device. The children had fun drawing their own cyberbullies on the chalkboards and then spraying them with water to make them disappear.

Thank you to all the parents who have taken time out to come into nursery and read to the children. A special thank you to Alara's mum, who sang to us in Norwegian during International Mother Language Day.
